

Description: What would you do to win? Cycling has a long history of performance enhancing drug and doping scandals. The Tour de Doping puts players in the role of professional cyclists. Players cycle through the stages of the race, choosing whether they will dope before each stage. At the end of each stage, points are tallied and a drug test may be performed. The goal is to win by collecting the most yellow jerseys.

Your mission: Win the tour! Being crowned the Tour winner means being the most celebrated athlete in the highly competitive international sport of cycling. There is no higher goal and as a professional cyclist you are willing to go to extreme measures for this honor.
